

From the Dundalk Eagle

Lois Irene Malozi, 72 years of Street, Md., passed away peacefully on Friday, Aug.12, 2016, in her home. Born on June 21, 1944, in Dundalk, she was a daughter of the late Randolph D.(Short) and Irene (Meekins) Yingling. A graduate of Dundalk High School, Lois enjoyed spending time with her family, shopping, attending craft shows and yard sales and caring for her cat, Sebastian. She attended First Lutheran Church of Gray Manor for many years before moving to Ocala, Fla. in 1995. She later returned to Maryland and resided in Bel Air where she worked for PMI as a receptionist, retiring in 2011. In addition, Lois enjoyed her part-time employment with Rite Aid. Lois was the devoted mother of four children: Kim Stamation and her husband, Ted; Scott Malozi and his wife, Patty Kelly McLean and her husband, Rob, and Kerri Malozi and loving grandmother of ten grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and expecting three more. Lois was the dear sister of Larry Yingling of Columbus, Ohio, and Renee Sellers of Whiteford, Md. She is survived by several nieces and nephews.
